Citycard International is a credit card merchant service provider. We offer a wide variety of electronic payment services. We have high speed processing software available, which enables you to use your computer as a terminal. All machines are state of the art. Our technical support is well educated and always ready to assist.

In addition to the traditional credit card terminals, we have many wireless terminals. These wireless terminals are a great item for those who perform a majority of business outside of an office setting. The terminal looks exactly like a cell phone. It clips easily on to a belt when not in use.
